

DATA RING

Version 2.0

The Data Ring is a planning tool to help recognize core project elements and think through data project resource requirements and their relationships in a structured way.

